93rd Year — 280

HERE HE COMES — Santa Claus came to town Friday and was greeted by a crowd of his worshippers during the annual Circleville Jaycee's Christmas Parade. The Circleville Junior and Senior High Bands provided the music, and a host of youngsters representing marching corps were on hand to lend to the festivities. The procession was led through downtown Circleville by members of the Circleville Police Department and Pickaway County Sheriff's Department. Santa will be in his house on W. Main St. to listen to the Christmas wish-lists of youngsters.

Rhodes To Settle Agency Fight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A dispute between Registrar Curtis Andrews and his boss, Highway Safety Director Donald D. Cook, apparently will be settled next week by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

In the meantime, Andrews will remain as registrar of the Bureau of Motor Vehicles, thanks to a reprieve by Rhodes after Cook attempted to suspend him on Tuesday.

Andrews reported to work Friday, and in a brief interview denied one of three charges leveled against him by Cook.

"To my knowledge," Andrews said, "I know of no records that are missing here at the bureau that were pertinent to the operation of the registrar."

Cook has accused Andrews of destroying 1974 license application ledgers. Thomas J. Moyer, Rhodes' executive assistant, said Andrews told him some license application forms, used to compile the ledger sheets, had been disposed of from 1971-72 records.

Cook has also charged Andrews with denying law enforcement agents after-hours access to a centralized traffic violation data system, and with halting the policing of auto auctions, where stolen cars are often identified.

But based on a preliminary telephone conversation with Cook, Moyer, the governors' chief aide, said it appeared the dispute involved a "personnel matter" and did not warrant Andrews' suspension.

Moyer said manual access to the computerized Law Enforcement Assistance Data System (LEADS) had been cut off daily after 5 p.m. because computer technicians were not on hand to assure information was accurate and up to date.

"He (Andrews) felt that information, if not accurate, should not be given out," Moyer said.

The governor's spokesman said Andrews' policy regarding auto auctions would be detailed in a written report, requested by Rhodes no later than Monday. The governor left last Tuesday for a long holiday weekend in Florida.

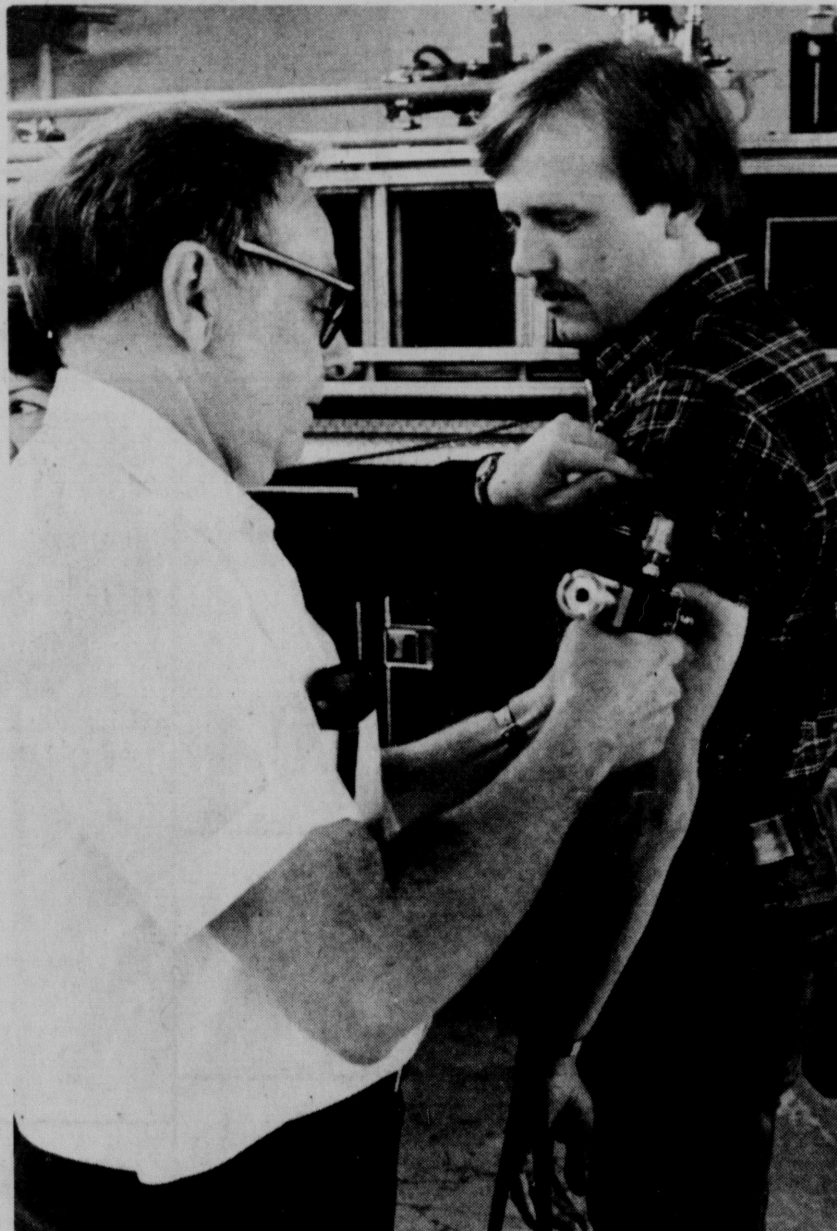

Cook was also out of town Friday and could not be reached for comment. His office issued a one-sentence statement: "We have no comment concerning the status of the registrar at this time."

His status with the governor's office, for the time being at least, was not in doubt Friday, as he reported to work with the backing of the Rhodes Administration.

"I understand a meeting has been called by the governor to discuss these allegations with director Cook next week," Andrews said. Moyer confirmed that a meeting would be held on Monday or Tuesday to analyze the dispute between the two men. He said Rhodes had not been informed by Cook beforehand of his intention to suspend Andrews.

As director of highway safety, Cook holds a cabinet level post and oversees the Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

FLU-PROOFED — Ty Ankrom, a teacher at Corwin St. Elementary School, rolls up his sleeve and gets flu-proofed by John Roll, a member of the Circleville Emergency Medical Team, during the initial mass Swine Flu clinics in Pickaway County yesterday. Pickaway County Health Department Nurse Linda Davis termed initial response to the program "terrific" and hoped that citizens continue to take advantage of the free immunizations. She also noted that persons between the ages of 18 and 25 will be required to take booster shots, which will probably be administered in January. Less-powerful Swine Flu vaccine designed for children has been received by the State Department of Health, she said, and will be distributed to the county department at a later date. Because of an insufficient supply of the drug, it will be administered only to those children who desire to be immunized.

Suit Challenges Ohio Election

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — President-elect Jimmy Carter's narrow victory in Ohio has been challenged in a federal lawsuit here charging his supporters with "widespread election fraud."

The suit, which seeks to overturn the Nov. 2 presidential election in Ohio, was filed Friday in U.S. District Court by Richard Reichel, a Massillon attorney, on behalf of electors from the Republican, U.S. Labor and American parties.

"It is based upon our belief that in the recent election there was widespread election fraud that we have been able to document to a certain extent," Reichel said.

"The ultimate purpose of the suit would be to have a master commissioner appointed by the court to have a new Presidential election in Ohio," he added.

In the meantime, Reichel said he would seek a temporary injunction early next week to prevent Secretary of State Ted W. Brown from certifying Carter's 25 electors for the Dec. 13 meeting of the electoral college.

Brown, a Republican, and 23 Carter electors were named as defendants in the suit which U.S. Labor party representatives have threatened to file for more than a week.

Brown has ordered a recount to begin Monday of Carter's 9,333-vote victory over President Ford. He has agreed to "check" Labor Party allegations of fraud, but has not launched a formal investigation. The suit seeks to force him to investigate fraud stemming from registration drives, organized by the state Democratic Party, the AFL-CIO and the United Auto Workers.

Reichel said volunteers had uncovered instances of false addresses and phony names in major population centers, specifically Cleveland, Youngstown and Toledo.

The court papers also contend ineligible persons were appointed as registration clerks; registration notices were not properly posted, and out-of-state voters cast ballots in counties without registration procedures.

Reichel, an avowed conservative, is a former Republican lawmaker who recently won an unfair campaign practices lawsuit against the Ohio AFL-CIO in connection with his defeat in 1974.

He almost missed the 5 p.m. filing deadline because he did not recognize a U.S. Labor Party representative who had the nine-page lawsuit.

Reichel stood talking to reporters informally for at least 15 minutes while Michael Michale of the Labor Party was hunched over a pay telephone about 25 feet away in a corridor of the federal courthouse. The two men, from opposite ends of the political spectrum but with a common cause, had never met.

The U.S. Labor Party is a far left organization that has challenged presidential election results in several states. The party's presidential candidate Lyndon LaRouche finished last in Ohio with 4,364 votes.

Skepticism Greeted Steel Price Hikes By Some Firms

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Despite the Ford administration's skepticism — and failure of the industry's two leaders to go along — some steel makers say they are confident that demand will support their new price increases.

Four more steel firms increased prices Friday effective Dec. 1 on steel used in autos and consumer goods, bringing to six the number of companies to do so this week. The price hikes range between $15 and $20 a ton on various sheet projects and have averaged about 6 per cent.

Conspicuously missing from the list were U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's No. 1 producer, and second-ranked Bethlehem Steel Corp. Their pricing policies could determine whether the increases will stand.

"Flat-rolled steel is used widely in the automotive and appliance industries. The increases could be passed on to consumers in the form of higher prices, but the nation's major auto makers, the largest buyers of sheet steel products, have not commented so far.

The four firms which joined in the hikes Friday are Armco Steel of Middletown, Ohio; Wheeling-Pittsburgh Steel Corp. here; Youngstown Sheet and Tube of Youngstown, Ohio, and Inland Steel of Chicago.

National Steel Corp. and Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. touched off the round of price hikes Wednesday.

When those first increases were announced, President Ford directed the Council on Wage and Price Stability to investigate the possibility they might be inflationary. The council has no power to order a price rollback, but the White House was hoping it could bring pressure on firms to reconsider.

A.G. Scott, executive vice president of Wheeling-Pittsburgh, said Friday, as National had before, that sheet steel prices have been too low for some time.

Steel producers raised prices on sheet products 6 per cent in June but were forced to cancel efforts for another 6 per cent hike scheduled for October because of weak market conditions.

Last week, the American Iron and Steel Institute reported steel production fell 4.1 per cent to 2.21 million tons for the week ending Nov. 20, making it the second-lowest weekly production since January.

Nevertheless, Armco reported bookings almost 25 per cent higher than one month ago, and a Wheeling-Pittsburgh spokesman said: "The only steel markets which remain depressed are those involving capital goods and construction."

Panthers Want Probe Of Slaying

WASHINGTON (AP) — A civil liberties group wants the House committee investigating the assassinations of President John F. Kennedy and Martin Luther King Jr. to look into the death of Black Panther leader Fred Hampton.

Morton H. Halperin, director of the Project on National Security and Civil Liberties, made the request Friday in releasing documents that he said "raise grave questions about the FBI's role in Hampton's death."

Hampton, chairman of the Illinois branch of the Black Panther party, was fatally shot during a predawn police raid on his apartment in Chicago on Dec. 4, 1969. A second Panther, Mark Clark, was killed and four others were wounded.

Richard Sprague, chief counsel and director of the House Select Committee on Assassinations, could not be reached for comment on Halperin's request. An FBI spokesman said the agency had no comment.

The House committee is authorized to look into other assassinations.

The documents compiled by the project, which is sponsored jointly by the American Civil Liberties Union and the Center for National Security Studies, all were made public previously. Some were cited as evidence during a current civil trial in Chicago of a damage suit brought by the raid's survivors and the heirs of Hampton and Clark.

AN OPEN MOUTH IS AN INVITATION FOR PEOPLE TO JUMP DOWN YOUR THROAT

U.S. Again Blocks Vietnam's U.N. Bid

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.S. allies and rivals joined forces in a 124-1 vote with only three abstentions to rebuke the United States for its repeated refusal to let Vietnam into the United Nations.

Only Britain, West Germany and Israel abstained Friday, and the United States cast the lone negative vote against a General Assembly resolution that rejected as trivial U.S. arguments against admitting Vietnam.

The measure declared Vietnam fully qualified for membership and demanded that the Security Council reconsider its application.

The United States vetoed Hanoi's application Nov. 15 in the Security Council, arguing that Vietnam was not humanitarian enough for U.N. membership because it has failed to account for 800 Americans still missing in action (MIA) after the Vietnam War.

"Whatever problems it may have at this particular time in accounting for the Americans ... are trivial in comparison with the great causes that are being discussed here this morning," said Sri Lanka's ambassador, T.D. Kanakaratne, who introduced the resolution as chairman of the nonaligned group.

But U.S. Ambassador William W. Scranton made it clear that another attempt to admit Vietnam would meet another U.S. veto. He said the United States will continue to insist that Hanoi "provide all the information in their possession on the missing in action and they will return to us all recoverable remains of our dead."

Vietnam's U.N. observer, Dinh Ba Thi, said the MIA issue has not been resolved because of "the attitude of the American government, which has shown no serious desire to solve this problem."

The Vietnamese insist the MIA issue must be negotiated in connection with their demand for U.S. war reconstruction aid. American and Vietnamese officials have begun meeting on these issues in Paris.

The large vote for Hanoi reflects a widely held feeling at the United Nations that Vietnam, after its long struggle for independence and unity, deserves to be admitted to the world body.

The United States vetoed the admission of North and South Vietnam on Aug. 11, 1975, on the grounds that the council had refused to consider an application from South Korea.

Vietnam subsequently reapplied as a unified nation, but a vote was put off until after the U.S. presidential elections, when it was believed that the MIA issue would be less likely to prompt a veto. Many U.N. diplomats expressed surprise at the U.S. veto Nov. 15.

Grazing Fees Stay Same

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fees charged ranchers for letting their animals graze on public land in the West will not be raised next year, the Agriculture Department says.

In the Federal Land Policy and Land Management Act signed by President Ford last month, Congress ordered that grazing fees not be increased until a study is made of the system.

The study is scheduled to be made jointly by USDA, which administers national forest land, and the Interior Department, which includes Bureau of Land Management land. The report is supposed to be ready by next Oct. 21.

Thus, officials said Friday, the 1976 grazing fee rates will continue in effect next year. They average $1.60 per animal unit month (AUM) on forest land and $1.51 per AUM on land administered by Interior.

One AUM is the grazing of one cow or horse or five sheep for one month. The new grazing year will begin next March 1.

The law calls for the fee increase moratorium to apply to forest land in the 11 contiguous Western states and to all BLM land.

Officials said, however, that the freeze also will apply in 1977 to national forests in South Dakota and Nebraska, as well as to national grasslands in the Great Plains, Oregon and Idaho.

And So It Grows

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

The important thing in house plants is not the fact that they need air, light, water, fertilizer, and suitable temperature but how the plant uses these various elements.

Air is often taken for granted unless it becomes polluted, but in the home it is important that plants do not sit in a draft. Impurities in the air, especially gases escaped from incomplete combustion of manufactured cooking gas, can make house plant growing almost impossible.

All plants do not require the same amount of light, but plants utilize light in the same way. The green pigment chlorophyll found in leaves is the catalyst by which plants manufacture sugars and starches within their leaves in the presence of light. Without light, plants starve because they burn up sugars and starches in darkness and soon exhaust their strength. When light is dim, be especially careful not to overfertilize plants. They cannot assimilate much food without abundant light.

Too much water is often the cause of plant trouble. Most plants do best when allowed to become slightly dry before more water is added. Soil for plants must contain air as well as water, and too much water forces out the air.

House plants do best when fed weak solutions of fertilizer. In the home where fast growth is not desirable, feeding can be quite infrequent, especially for foliage plants which may need food only two or three times a year.

Generally speaking, our homes are too warm for best growth of flowering plants. Try to find a cool window sill for most of your flowering plants and bring them into the warmer areas only when you want to display them.

Prevent Basement Seepage

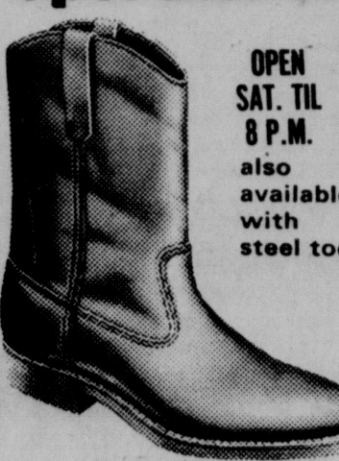

Fill in "pot holes" or low areas next to the outside walls of your home, particularly on basement walls. By filling these areas with good soil and sloping it away from the wall, you prevent winter rains and melting snow seeping down and through basement walls. At the same time, you have prepared the flower and shrub beds for next spring's plant growth.

Very often, shrub beds around the house settle or the grassed area builds up causing the soil level next to the house to be lower than the level of the yard. If this has happened, bring in enough soil to raise the entire bed area above the soil level of the grassed area.

Narrower Margins Predicted In Agriculture For 1977

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent
Agriculture

Narrower margins and greater price uncertainty will test the capabilities of many operators. In the final analysis, the individual farmers decisions and his actions bring about success or failure. Some factors to consider follow.

Full owner operators continue to make up nearly 65 per cent of the total. Part owner-operator status is growing and now accounts for over 25 per cent of total farm operations. Full tenancy is declining. These trends are expected to continue.

Larger commercial farms selling over $40,000 annually account for 70 per cent of total farm sales; number 450,000 or 16 per cent of all farms. They will receive a larger share of the total farm sales as they gain control of additional resources through either price and income benefits or their neighbor's financial stress. Farmers selling $20,000 to $39,999 of farm produces annually make up both one-fourth of the total number of farms and of all sales. Many are older and will forego expansion. The younger people will either expand and become large commercial farms, quit farming or become part-time farmers. Three-fifths of all farms have total sales of under $20,000 and sell 5 per cent of all farm products. Many farm as a hobby; some are subsistence farmers.

Economic units for the larger commercial operations will move toward two or three man units providing for labor specialization and the amenities enjoyed by nonfarm people. Producers need to figure on the production per man of 500-600 acres of grain crops. In the livestock enterprises, including feed production, output per man needs to reach 800-1000 head of hogs marketed per year; about 50-60 dairy cows; 250-300 beef cows; and, in cattle feeding 400-500 steers marketed. For poultry enterprises with feed purchased, an egg laying operation needs to be 40,000-50,000 hens per man; an outdoor turkey operation should number 40,000-50,000 per man per year; and 250,000 broilers.

Investment in farming in 1976 reached $590 billion. The annual increase in the last decade was 13 per cent but heavily influenced by the 70 per cent increase from 1972 through 1976. Debt to asset ratio has varied between 16-20 per cent in the last decade and may remain so in the years ahead. Of the total annual cash flow for purchase of real estate, capital improvements and production assets, about two-thirds has been generated by income and savings; the remainder

The Ohio Cooperative Extension Service is now offering the Pork Industry Handbook to producers in the state. by secured real estate. Land contract sales will expand. Farm indebtedness will rise with the general price level.

Output per farm worker increased at 6.5 per cent per year in the last decade. To keep pace, the average farmer will need to increase his volume at an annual rate of 6.5 per cent. To catch up, the younger and or smaller commercial farmer needs to think of annual increases exceeding 10 per cent. Some can come from improving yields; the remainder from more intensive operations or farm enlargement.

Livestock production will continue to move to full owner or part-owner operated farms. Landlords will be increasingly reluctant to make large investments in economic sized livestock units; tenants will be reluctant to use outmoded facilities.

Marketing practices: Producers facing lower margins, higher financial burdens and greater uncertainties will need to minimize risks. Creditors will increasingly require borrowers to "lock in profits." Thus, hedging, forward contracting, interval selling, or selling before planting or at time of placement in feedlots will expand. Management practices: Financial management, record keeping, tax management, estate planning and business organization practices will be of increasing importance. The large investment per farm, narrower margins, increased market coordination of quality control will necessitate such changes. The source and quality of information made available by the land grant institutions, farm supply firms and marketing organizations and the interpretation of such information will be of increasing importance.

Summarizing: Average earnings of commercial farmers in the next five years may not reach the 1970-75 earnings but should exceed the decade of the 1960's. This means a relatively good climate for those operators who have control of adequate resources, who market wisely and have good management. Many farmers, whether smaller or for other reasons, unable to make adjustments will be under severe pressure. The casualty rate of those financially overextended or lacking management capabilities will be high.

New Ohio Service Lab Established At OARDC

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent
Agriculture

A new laboratory, combining a number of analytical services now offered by separate laboratories, is being established at the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center.

The Research-Extension Analytical Laboratory (REAL) will join under one roof the services now offered by the Ohio Soil Testing Laboratory, Ohio Ration Evaluation Program, and the Ohio Plant Analysis Laboratory. The soil testing laboratory is currently located on the campus of The Ohio State University; the other laboratories are located at the Research Center.

Dr. Maurice E. Watson, who joined the OARDC faculty July 1, is head of REAL. He reports that renovation of the Research Center's Hayden Hall will begin soon. Relocation of all the analytical laboratories will proceed as soon as renovation is complete with as little interruption in services as possible.

Watson points out that the shifting of location is expected to provide more efficient and more in-depth service to users. The soil testing laboratory will continue to analyze samples of soil submitted by farmers, gardeners, agricultural industry, governmental organizations, and research workers. There will be no change in procedures for submitting soil samples, Watson says. Mailers and instruction forms will still be offered through county offices of the Cooperative Extension Service.

The plant and feed analysis laboratories, currently based in Williams Hall (Dept. of Agronomy) at OARDC will be relocated in Hayden Hall. Once the testing services are joined in the single laboratory, a grower will be able to more conveniently get concise information about the nutrient status of the plant and of the soil in which the plant is growing.

Watson says every effort is being made to complete the renovation and relocation before March — that's when the peak demand hits for soil tests for the spring planting season.

Once all existing services are relocated and operating at capacity, Watson will turn his attention to developing a new service for Ohioans. Plans call for the addition of full testing services for sewage sludge. This is becoming of increasing importance as more and more communities seriously consider land disposal of municipal sludge and as agriculturists look more closely at the soil nutrient benefits and problems of heavy metal contamination from sludge applications to soil.

The new Research-Extension Analytical Laboratory will offer Ohioans an expansion of the excellent services now provided by the Ohio Soil Testing Laboratory, Ohio Plant Analysis Laboratory, and Ohio Ration Evaluation Programs.

4-H

A 4-H Camp-In is coming to the Center of Science and Industry in Columbus, Ohio December 17 and 18. The camp-in is open to 4-H Jr. Leaders, older 4-H youth, adult leaders and 4-H parents.

At a cost of $6.50 per participant, the camp-in fee includes supper, a mid-night snack, and breakfast as well as instructional materials. Sessions that will be offered include Recreation Leadership, Value Clarification, Taffy-Pulling, Bio-Rhythms, Backpacking and Canoe Trips, Things That Fly, International 4-H Youth Exchange Program and Astronomy.

The camp-in is meant to kick-off the 4th 4-H-COSI Winter Fair scheduled for December 28, 29 and 30.

More information can be obtained by contacting the Pickaway County Cooperative Extension Service, P.O. Box 29, Circleville, Ohio 43113. Phone 474-7534.

Deadline for reservations is December 10.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS

Notice is hereby given in compliance with Section 5715.17 Revised Code, that the tax returns of Pickaway County for the year 1976, have been revised and the valuations completed and are open for public inspection at the office of the County Auditor in the Court House, Circleville, Ohio.

Complaints against any valuation or assessment, except the valuations fixed and assessments made by the tax commissioner of Ohio, will be heard by the County Board of Revision at its office in the Court House, Circleville, Ohio, on or after December 8, 1976.

Complaints must be made in writing on blanks furnished by the County Auditor and filed in his office on or before the time limited for payment of taxes for the first half year, or at any time during which taxes are received by the County Treasurer without penalty for the first half year.

An open letter to area hog farmers:

Hog farmers and Producers have teamed up the past two weeks to make hog marketing history. Producers held the first telephone sale of slaughter hogs in Ohio, November 15, 1976.

Over 20 packers from seven states bid competitively by telephone for your neighbor's hogs at your local Producers Market. The hogs brought in to Circleville before 9 a.m. each Monday (or the night before), packaged very carefully and offered to these packer-buyers in distant cities. We encourage you to stay and hear the actual bidding of your farm fresh hogs and see how your hogs can bring handsome premiums. Market power is brought right to your doorstep by Producers.

Packers do appreciate the opportunity to buy hogs of the quality and weight best suited to their needs. Two sales have proven that they are willing to pay an amount over the regular daily market for this added service allowing them to purchase available numbers of like kinds early in the market day.

At our next sale, it is crucial that we get good numbers of hogs to keep our momentum going. We earnestly solicit your help and your hogs to make this program work. If we succeed, we can help more farmers in other areas. Please call Harold Sherman, Joe Streitenberger or Dave Schleich in Circleville at 614-474-3181 for more details before our next sale on Monday.

And So It Grows

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

The important thing in house plants is not the fact that they need air, light, water, fertilizer, and suitable temperature but how the plant uses these various elements.

Air is often taken for granted unless it becomes polluted, but in the home it is important that plants do not sit in a draft. Impurities in the air, especially gases escaped from incomplete combustion of manufactured cooking gas, can make house plant growing almost impossible.

All plants do not require the same amount of light, but plants utilize light in the same way. The green pigment chlorophyll found in leaves is the catalyst by which plants manufacture sugars and starches within their leaves in the presence of light. Without light, plants starve because they burn up sugars and starches in darkness and soon exhaust their strength. When light is dim, be especially careful not to overfertilize plants. They cannot assimilate much food without abundant light.

Too much water is often the cause of plant trouble. Most plants do best when allowed to become slightly dry before more water is added. Soil for plants must contain air as well as water, and too much water forces out the air.

House plants do best when fed weak solutions of fertilizer. In the home where fast growth is not desirable, feeding can be quite infrequent, especially for foliage plants which may need food only two or three times a year.

Generally speaking, our homes are too warm for best growth of flowering plants. Try to find a cool window sill for most of your flowering plants and bring them into the warmer areas only when you want to display them.

Prevent Basement Seepage

Fill in "pot holes" or low areas next to the outside walls of your home, particularly on basement walls. By filling these areas with good soil and sloping it away from the wall, you prevent winter rains and melting snow seeping down and through basement walls. At the same time, you have prepared the flower and shrub beds for next spring's plant growth.

Very often, shrub beds around the house settle or the grassed area builds up causing the soil level next to the house to be lower than the level of the yard. If this has happened, bring in enough soil to raise the entire bed area above the soil level of the grassed area.

Narrower Margins Predicted In Agriculture For 1977

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent
Agriculture

Narrower margins and greater price uncertainty will test the capabilities of many operators. In the final analysis, the individual farmers decisions and his actions bring about success or failure. Some factors to consider follow.

Full owner operators continue to make up nearly 65 per cent of the total. Part owner-operator status is growing and now accounts for over 25 per cent of total farm operations. Full tenancy is declining. These trends are expected to continue.

Larger commercial farms selling over $40,000 annually account for 70 per cent of total farm sales; number 450,000 or 16 per cent of all farms. They will receive a larger share of the total farm sales as they gain control of additional resources through either price and income benefits or their neighbor's financial stress. Farmers selling $20,000 to $39,999 of farm produces annually make up both one-fourth of the total number of farms and of all sales. Many are older and will forego expansion. The younger people will either expand and become large commercial farms, quit farming or become part-time farmers. Three-fifths of all farms have total sales of under $20,000 and sell 5 per cent of all farm products. Many farm as a hobby; some are subsistence farmers.

Economic units for the larger commercial operations will move toward two or three man units providing for labor specialization and the amenities enjoyed by nonfarm people. Producers need to figure on the production per man of 500-600 acres of grain crops. In the livestock enterprises, including feed production, output per man needs to reach 800-1000 head of hogs marketed per year; about 50-60 dairy cows; 250-300 beef cows; and, in cattle feeding 400-500 steers marketed. For poultry enterprises with feed purchased, an egg laying operation needs to be 40,000-50,000 hens per man; an outdoor turkey operation should number 40,000-50,000 per man per year; and 250,000 broilers.

Investment in farming in 1976 reached $590 billion. The annual increase in the last decade was 13 per cent but heavily influenced by the 70 per cent increase from 1972 through 1976. Debt to asset ratio has varied between 16-20 per cent in the last decade and may remain so in the years ahead. Of the total annual cash flow for purchase of real estate, capital improvements and production assets, about two-thirds has been generated by income and savings; the remainder by secured real estate. Land contract sales will expand. Farm indebtedness will rise with the general price level.

Output per farm worker increased at 6.5 per cent per year in the last decade. To keep pace, the average farmer will need to increase his volume at an annual rate of 6.5 per cent. To catch up, the younger and or smaller commercial farmer needs to think of annual increases exceeding 10 per cent. Some can come from improving yields; the remainder from more intensive operations or farm enlargement.

Livestock production will continue to move to full owner or part-owner operated farms. Landlords will be increasingly reluctant to make large investments in economic sized livestock units; tenants will be reluctant to use outmoded facilities.

Marketing practices: Producers facing lower margins, higher financial burdens and greater uncertainties will need to minimize risks. Creditors will increasingly require borrowers to "lock in profits." Thus, hedging, forward contracting, interval selling, or selling before planting or at time of placement in feedlots will expand. Management practices: Financial management, record keeping, tax management, estate planning and business organization practices will be of increasing importance. The large investment per farm, narrower margins, increased market coordination at quality control will necessitate such changes. The source and quality of information made available by the land grant institutions, farm supply firms and marketing organizations and the interpretation of such information will be of increasing importance.

Summarizing: Average earnings of commercial farmers in the next five years may not reach the 1970-75 earnings but should exceed the decade of the 1960's. This means a relatively good climate for those operators who have control of adequate resources, who market wisely and have good management. Many farmers, whether smaller or for other reasons, unable to make adjustments will be under severe pressure. The casualty rate of those financially overextended or lacking management capabilities will be high.

Auditor Releases School Subsidies

The November State School Foundation Subsidy payment - of $59,533,284.90 to Ohio's 613 city, exempted village and local school districts and 87 county boards of education, was reported today by State Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson.

The net payment to Pickaway County was $227,019.05. This includes $74,985.98 to the Circleville City Schools $47,476.36 to Logan Elm local, $61,242.82 to Teays Valley local, and $43,313.89 to Westfall local. The direct allotment to the county board of education was $20,265.88 for basic and transportation allowances.

To the four schools and the county board, the total payments for basic and transportation allowances were $318,570.88. In deductions from the total allotment, $11,872 was taken from school employees retirement, $59,413.88 for state teachers retirement and the allotment to the county board.

He additionally reported $2,735,278.51 was distributed to 43 joint vocational school districts representing their November allotment.

The November state subsidy payment would have been $80,482,687.32, however, the Ohio Office of Budget and Management temporarily withheld $20,949,402.42 destined for the teachers' and school employees' retirement system because of the state's financial squeeze.

The State Teachers' Retirement System eventually will receive $16,832,426.42 and the School Employees' Retirement System will receive $4,116,976 as the employers' share of the pension program for November, Ferguson added. The 87 county boards of education received $2,635,615.32 for the month.

The 184 city school districts divided $31,223,238.26 while the 380 local school districts split $22,799,971.31. The 49 exempted village school districts shared $2,874,460.01 of the disbursement, Ferguson said.

State School Foundation Subsidy payments are sent to the 88 county auditors who distribute the amounts due the districts within the respective counties.

Payments to the joint vocational school districts are sent directly to the districts' clerk-treasurers.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed bids will be received by the Board of County Commissioners of Pickaway County, Ohio, at the office of their Clerk, room 3, Court House, Circleville, Ohio until 12 o'clock noon, E.S.T. on Monday, December 13, 1976 for the furnishing of Copying Equipment according to the specifications on file in the Commissioners Office and will be opened and read at 3 O'CLOCK P.M. the same day. A bid bond in the amount of $200.00 is required.

Delivery date to be 60 days after the execution of contract to purchase by the Board of Pickaway County Commissioners. The Board of County Commissioners of Pickaway County reserve the right to reject any or all bids.

If you are thinking of purchasing pots and pans for Christmas gifts, our new bulletin from OSU on "Choosing and Using Pots and Pans" will help you. It gives the good and bad characteristics of most metals and finishes found on the market. For instance, did you know that cast aluminum comes in thickness measured by gauge? 10-, 12-, or 14 gauge metals are fairly heavy and are good pans for top of range cooking. But 18-, or 20- gauge metals are lighter and heat very fast, causing more scorched food, and they dent easily. Request the bulletin for more information. What To Do With Deer

Ohio State Bulletin 581 concerns deer and how to dress, store, and cook it. The Ohio Dept. of Agriculture, Meat Inspection Division says: "The supervisory veterinarian shall determine which plants may accept carcasses of game animals."

If you do not plan to age, cut and package your own deer, you should make advance arrangements. An Ohio Department of Agriculture, Meat Inspection Division law regulates the processing of game animals in plants. Ageing Deer Meat:

It is generally suggested that venison be aged before processing. One week or more at 37 to 40 degree F. temperature is recommended.

Ageing can be done outdoors if proper temperature and sanitation is maintained; however, it is best to have some alternatives in mind. Two alternatives are:

1. Contact a local processing plant. Special arrangements must be made to process field-slaughtered meat in inspected meat facilities.

2. Plan to cut the deer and age cuts in a refrigerator.

If venison is to be aged it must be done before the venison is frozen.

Freeze quickly at 0 degrees F. or lower. Spread out the packages for freezing. Place them close to the walls of the freezer or on the freezing shelves.

For best quality, do not allow meat to vary in temperature while it is frozen. A constant temperature of 0 degrees F. or lower is recommended.

Use the venison before it has been in the freezer a year. Shorter times will yield better quality meat.

Recommended Freezer Storage Time for Deer: Ground meat: 2 to 3 months, Roasts: 8 to 12 months, Steaks: 8 to 12 months.

Our Extension bulletin gives a recipe for brining (curing) venison as well as directions for smoking and cooking methods. Since deer meat doesn't have much fat, some is usually added, as in this recipe.

Deerburger
2 pounds groun venison
¼ pound ground beef fat
1 chopped onion
4 slices fresh bread broken into small pieces
Seasonings (to taste)
Mix the venison, fat, onion, and bread. Add seasonings, make into patties and fry or broil as for hamburgers.

For further information, request the bulletin at 474-7534, or visit our office at 137 W. Franklin Street, Circleville.

CHS Teacher Wins Award In Economics

Circleville High School's home economics teacher was honored recently with her entry describing personal experiences teaching economics. Ms. Nancy L. Shelton was given fourth place recognition in her senior high division in the contest sponsored by the Joint Council on Economic Education.

Ms. Shelton was among the 188 entrants representing elementary, secondary and college teachers in 34 states, Canada and Israel. Of these, 68 shared $9,250 in prize money and honors for their winning entries.

The home economics teacher and other winners will be honored March 20, 1977 at a reception held in conjunction with the annual conference of the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development at Houston, Texas.

Winning entries will be published in 1977 by the Joint Council in the 14th volume of Economic Education Experiences of Enterprising Teachers.

The awards program is sponsored annually by the International Paper Company Foundation, New York City. NONDISCRIMINATION "STATEMENT OF South Central Paper Company, P. O. Box 250, 2780 Conpath Road N.E. Lancaster, Ohio 43130, has filed with the Federal Government a Compliance Assurance in which it assures the Rural Electrification Administration that it will comply fully with all requirements of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and the Rules and Regulations of the Department of Agriculture issued thereunder, to the end that no person in the United States shall, on the ground of race, color, or national origin, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be otherwise subjected to discrimination in the conduct of its program and the operation of its facilities. Under this Assurance, this organization is committed not to discriminate against any person on the ground of race, color or national origin in its policies and practices relating to applications for service or any other policies and practices relating to treatment of beneficiaries and participants including rates, conditions and extension of service, use of any of its facilities, attendance at and participation in any meetings of beneficiaries and participants or the exercise of any rights of such beneficiaries and participants in the conduct of the operations of this organization.

"Any person who believes himself, or any specific class of individuals, to be subjected by this organization to discrimination prohibited by Title VI of the Act and the Rules and Regulations issued thereunder may, by himself or a representative, file with the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. 20250, or the Rural Electrification Administration, Washington, D. C. 20250, or this organization, or all, a written complaint. Such complaint must be filed not later than 90 days after the alleged discrimination, or by such later date to which the Secretary of Agriculture or the Rural Electrification Administration extends the time for filing. Identity of complainants will be kept confidential except to the extent necessary to carry out the purposes of the Rules and Regulations."

Mom Can't Love Her Ugly Duckling

DEAR ABBY: I know I should be grateful that my 13-year-old daughter is healthy and bright, but she is so ugly that it's hard to love her. I am often cruel to her, and then I feel guilty because I know it's not her fault that she's not better-looking.

Both my husband and I are fairly attractive. We've done everything to help her-teeth straightened, good hair cut, nice clothes, treatment for acne, etc., but she's still a very homely girl.

I find myself bitter and resentful to my friends' attractive children because my daughter is so ugly. What can I do?

CRUEL AND FEELING GUILTY
DEAR CRUEL: If you condition your love on the cosmetic qualities of your daughter, you are the ugly one, only your ugliness doesn't show.

I regard your frank confession as a cry for help. Get into therapy before your "bright and healthy" daughter suffers serious psychological damage from your cruelty and sadly twisted values.

DEAR ABBY: My husband went on a 10-day business trip recently, and he wrote me three letters. He addressed the first one to "Mary Smith," the second to "Mrs. Mary Smith," and the third to "Ms. Mary Smith."

I have a friend who studies psychology, and she told me that my husband's addressing me as "Mrs. John Smith" was his way of "de-wifing" me.

I should add that when my husband returned from the trip, he was as affectionate and loving as ever, and he certainly didn't "dewife" me then.

What do you think of my friend's theory?

PERPLEXED
DEAR PERPLEXED: Not much. And if I were you, I would "de-friend" her.

DEAR ABBY: I've been married for four years, but my husband still maintains the bachelor apartment he had before he married me. (He and I are now living in my apartment.)

We are in need of a new TV. He has a very good one in his apartment, which is hardly used and was purchased just before we were married, but he refuses to move it over here, even though nobody is getting any use out of it where it is.

This is only a minor issue. Why he needs to keep that apartment is what really bothers me. He keeps kidding me about wanting a place to go in case we have a fight or decide to separate.

I care for him a lot and would hate to break up over his keeping that apartment. How do you figure this?

Auditor Releases School Subsidies

The November State School Foundation Subsidy payment of $59,533,284.90 to Ohio's 613 city, exempted village and local school districts and 87 county boards of education, was reported today by State Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson.

The net payment to Pickaway County was $227,019.05. This includes $74,985.98 to the Circleville City Schools $47,476.36 to Logan Elm local, $61,242.82 to Teays Valley local, and $43,313.89 to Westfall local. The direct allotment to the county board of education was $20,265.88 for basic and transportation allowances.

To the four schools and the county board, the total payments for basic and transportation allowances were $318,570.88. In deductions from the total allotment, $11,872 was taken from school employees retirement, $59,413.88 for state teachers retirement and the allotment to the county board.

He additionally reported $2,735,278.51 was distributed to 43 joint vocational school districts representing their November allotment.

The November state subsidy payment would have been $80,482,687.32, however, the Ohio Office of Budget and Management temporarily withheld $20,949,402.42 destined for the teachers' and school employees' retirement system because of the state's financial squeeze.

The State Teachers' Retirement System eventually will receive $16,832,426.42 and the School Employees' Retirement System will receive $4,116,976 as the employers' share of the pension program for November, Ferguson added. The 87 county boards of education received $2,635,615.32 for the month.

The 184 city school districts divided $31,223,238.26 while the 380 local school districts split $22,799,971.31. The 49 exempted village school districts shared $2,874,460.01 of the disbursement, Ferguson said.

State School Foundation Subsidy payments are sent to the 88 county auditors who distribute the amounts due the districts within the respective counties.

Payments to the joint vocational school districts are sent directly to the districts' clerk-treasurers.

If you are thinking of purchasing pots and pans for Christmas gifts, our new bulletin from OSU on "Choosing and Using Pots and Pans" will help you. It gives the good and bad characteristics of most metals and finishes found on the market. For instance, did you know that cast aluminum comes in thickness measured by gauge? 10-, 12-, or 14 gauge metals are fairly heavy and are good pans for top of range cooking. But 18-, or 20- gauge metals are lighter and heat very fast, causing more scorched food, and they dent easily. Request the bulletin for more information. What To Do With Deer

Ohio State Bulletin 581 concerns deer and how to dress, store, and cook it. The Ohio Dept. of Agriculture, Meat Inspection Division says: "The supervisory veterinarian shall determine which plants may accept carcasses of game animals."

If you do not plan to age, cut and package your own deer, you should make advance arrangements. An Ohio Department of Agriculture, Meat Inspection Division law regulates the processing of game animals in plants. Ageing Deer Meat:

It is generally suggested that venison be aged before processing. One week or more at 37 to 40 degree F. temperature is recommended.

Ageing can be done outdoors if proper temperature and sanitation is maintained; however, it is best to have some alternatives in mind. Two alternatives are:

1. Contact a local processing plant. Special arrangements must be made to process field-slaughtered meat in inspected meat facilities.

2. Plan to cut the deer and age cuts in a refrigerator.

If venison is to be aged it must be done before the venison is frozen.

Freeze quickly at 0 degrees F. or lower. Spread out the packages for freezing. Place them close to the walls of the freezer or on the freezing shelves.

For best quality, do not allow meat to vary in temperature while it is frozen. A constant temperature of 0 degrees F. or lower is recommended.

Use the venison before it has been in the freezer a year. Shorter times will yield better quality meat.

Recommended Freezer Storage Time for Deer: Ground meat: 2 to 3 months, Roasts: 8 to 12 months, Steaks: 8 to 12 months.

Our Extension bulletin gives a recipe for brining (curing) venison as well as directions for smoking and cooking methods. Since deer meat doesn't have much fat, some is usually added, as in this recipe.

Deerburger
2 pounds groun venison
¼ pound ground beef fat
1 chopped onion
4 slices fresh bread broken into small pieces
Seasonings (to taste)
Mix the venison, fat, onion, and bread. Add seasonings, make into patties and fry or broil for ham-burgers.

For further information, request the bulletin at 474-7534, or visit our office at 137 W. Franklin Street, Circleville.

CHS Teacher Wins Award In Economics

Circleville High School's home economics teacher was honored recently with her entry describing personal experiences teaching economics. Ms. Nancy L. Shelton was given fourth place recognition in her senior high division in the contest sponsored by the Joint Council on Economic Education.

Ms. Shelton was among the 188 entrants representing elementary, secondary and college teachers in 34 states, Canada and Israel. Of these, 68 shared $9,250 in prize money and honors for their winning entries.

The home economics teacher and other winners will be honored March 20, 1977 at a reception held in conjunction with the annual conference of the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development at Houston, Texas.

Winning entries will be published in 1977 by the Joint Council in the 14th volume of Economic Education Experiences of Enterprising Teachers.

The awards program is sponsored annually by the International Paper Company Foundation, New York City. It is administered by the Joint Council, an independent, nonprofit, nonpartisan educational organization established to coordinate and improve the teaching of economics in the nation's schools and colleges.

A Page Of Opinion

Congressional Trips

It was inevitable. A session of Congress came to an end and the junketeers went into high gear. Congressmen and senators, staff members and occasionally wives currently are flying around the world in some of the most interesting assignments.

Strange how many lame duck legislators find it necessary as part of their swan songs to take extended tours overseas in their final days on the public payroll. Just making use of their years of expertise in public affairs, say the committee chairmen who approve the trips at public expense.

In a few isolated instances, when someone who approaches the indispensable state is about to hang up his hat, that argument might hold water. But not to the extent it is practiced, nor considering the heavy load of vacation spas which show up on many itineraries.

These junkets do more than provide a fringe benefit to members of Congress willing to go along. They also help to embitter men and women of conscience who do not take advantage of their positions in public service, and they serve to discourage the legitimate overseas mission by members who do not wish to be tarred with the same brush.

One of two changes need to be made. Either the junket should be legitimized and all pretense swept aside, or each returning junketeer should be forced to wait for reimbursement of his expense vouchers until he has submitted his trip report and it has been made public (excepting only matters involving national security).

That should help sort out the necessary ones from the others.

Priority: Kids Or Job?

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — According to an expert on executive hiring, the doors of executive suites are wide open to qualified women these days.

The fact is, however, that only a tiny proportion of the female population are choosing to walk through those promising portals. It's not that we don't feel qualified. Irving Berlin's sassy "Anything you can do, I can do better" is young womanhood's current theme song. Our problem is basic, and darn near insoluble.

Our priorities in life have been established, not only by social custom, but by nature itself. In a competitive business world it is impossible to compete without playing by the rules. And the rules dictate that if a woman is to be a successful leader, she must have at least as much talent, flexibility and mobility as a man.

The talent is no problem, but the flexibility and mobility are awesome and insurmountable barriers:

To be a valued executive, a woman cannot afford to take five years off to raise small children.

She cannot follow the dictates of her husband's career; she must follow the dictates of her own business.

She cannot work a simple nine-to-five shift.

She must give up the ages-old instincts for wifing and mothering, and become a dedicated, diligent, full-time office boss.

"Forget the idea of raising children and then finding a career in management," says Lester Korn, president of the country's largest placement agency. "The career cycle just isn't long enough to catch up on those years you've spent at home. And don't call that 'bias.' If a man has been on the beach till he's 35 or 40, what chances does he have of making a great career?"

Perhaps the eager leaders of the Women's Movement might try to dispute these opinions, but the facts are clear. The rare self-made female executives are women without children. Husbands are permissible for women in the executive suite - often several husbands. But kiddies don't come with the franchise.

For those who are willing to forego a family for a career, my friend Jean Baer has written a book titled, "How To Be An Assertive (Not Aggressive) Woman, in Life, in Love and on the Job." I've known Jean since the early 1950s when we were young aspiring career girls in New York, dedicated to the goal of setting the world on fire while still preserving an active romantic life. In those unenlightened days, girls' career priorities were established under the influence of such Hollywood trend-setters as Katherine Hepburn and Rosalind Russell, who were glamorously efficient and successful until, in the fadeout scene, on the terrace of a Manhattan penthouse, they slid weakly into the arms of a handsome man who promised to take them away from all that. And make them happy mothers.

Our paths to glory, Jean's and mine, separated when I was fortunate enough to follow the Hollywood script. As a writer, with irregular hours, I could keep working. Jean had more time in the competitive marketplace before her hero - a psychologist at Cornell University Medical College - who gave her the freedom, inspiration and time (they have no children) to translate her experience into books. In this one, her fifth, she offers some advice that young women could learn otherwise only by spending several years in business, floundering on the ropes.

The most practical tips include:

— Act confident. Resist the powerful female worry that "someone will take this job away from me."

— Don't get stuck in a dead-end job. Prepare yourself for your boss's job even if later you hate to find its counterpart in another company.

— Be mobile. Don't stay in one job too long. For advancement, you need depth of experience. Remember, if you're indispensable where you are, you could be unpromotable.

— Find a powerful advocate. By allying yourself with a person in power, you are more likely to move up. (This is known as the "get yourself a rabbi" technique - not, for heaven's sake, the "sleep with your boss" technique.)

— Learn something in depth. You move up in a company on the basis of contribution, so keep current and avoid the "technological obsolescence" trap.

— Be prepared to quit. If you're being indexed as an underling by a chauvinist employer, or a "bright girl" by a patronizing boss, you're likely stuck in a female job ghetto. Don't waste your time there. Move on.

Jean Baer's life and personality changed, when she married Dr. Herbert Fensterheim, whose specialty is Assertiveness Training. As she puts it, she was a "mouse by brainwashing." Now she's a best-selling "aggressive author" by training. She believes every woman can, and will be more successful if they abandon the old don't-make-waves ethic in favor of the speak-up-and-make-yourself-known theory. "You don't have to be a patsy," Jean says, "to be liked." She is right.

She is also realistic. She doesn't promise that assertiveness ever will win for a woman the board chairmanship for General Motors, nor does she even hint that this is women's aspiration.

Most women still find it hard to set their priorities in the same way that men do, aiming for a lifetime competitive career. This is partly because society expects women to bear children, but it seems to be mostly the instinctive demands of Nature... not Mother Nature anymore. Obviously, under the circumstances, what we are governed by here is Male Chauvinist Nature.

Woman Governor Of 20s Turns 100

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nellie Tayloe Ross, who served as the nation's first woman governor, turns 100 on Monday and says she's touched by the many birthday letters she's received from Wyoming schoolchildren.

"The best thing I could do for the women's cause at the time was to do a good job as governor and afterwards. I wanted to show that women could take the responsibility and do well," she said in an interview.

Mrs. Ross said her two years as Wyoming's governor after her election in 1924 even eclipsed in importance the 20 years she was director of the U.S. Mint.

Mrs. Ross, who lives in Washington, hasn't been in Wyoming since 1972 when she attended the centennial celebration of Yellowstone National Park.

But the bundles of letters that have arrived daily this month wishing her a "happy birthday" serve as a reminder of her strong ties to the Equality State.

"They touch me a great deal," she said of the birthday letters. "It makes me happy that they think of me."

After serving as cochairman of the Democratic National Committee in the early 1930s, she was named director of the U.S. Mint in 1933, the first woman to hold the office. She retired in 1953.

Mrs. Ross said she doesn't think she equaled the accomplishments of suffragette Carrie Nation, but she believes her career marked a milestone in the battle for women's equality.

Women's rights champions, however, claimed that Mrs. Ross failed to advance the women's cause as governor, and their criticism contributed to her defeat in a 1926 reelection bid.

She had been catapulted into politics in October 1924 when her husband, Gov. William B. Ross, died. Mrs. Ross, who had not been active in politics, was persuaded by Democrats to seek the office in the November election. She declined to campaign, but the chivalry and sympathy of Wyoming voters helped Mrs. Ross win the election.

Although Mrs. Ross was elected the same day that Ma Ferguson won the governorship of Texas, Wyoming gained the distinction of having the first woman governor because its inauguration was held three weeks before Texas'.

Surface Mining Under Regulation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Surface mining operations in eight southwestern Ohio counties now come under regulation of the Ohio Surface Mine Law, the latest area to be phased in by the Department of Natural Resources.

Champaign, Clark, Darke, Greene, Miami, Montgomery, Preble and Shelby counties will come under the law that requires reclamation of surface mine areas where minerals other than coal are the primary products.

Reclamation of coal strip mine areas is regulated by the 1972 Ohio Strip Mine Law.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Saturday, Nov. 27, the 332nd day of 1976. There are 34 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1942, during World War II, French navy men at Toulon, France, scuttled ten French cruisers, 28 destroyers and 14 submarines to prevent them from falling into the hands of the Nazis.

On this date —

In the year 602, the Roman emperor Maurice and his five sons were beheaded at Chalcedon in Asia Minor.

In 1940, during World War II, Germany annexed the French province of Lorraine.

In 1945, General George Marshall was named a special U.S. envoy to China to try to end hostilities between the Nationalists and the Communists.

In 1970, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover charged that a terrorist group had plotted to blow up tunnels connecting Washington buildings and to kidnap White House Assistant Henry Kissinger.

In 1973, the U.S. Senate voted 92-3 to confirm Gerald Ford as vice president.

Ten years ago: Fighting dropped off sharply in Vietnam after the Communists proposed a truce over Christmas and New Year's.

Five years ago: Prime Minister Indira Gandhi visited Indian troops who were fighting Pakistanis along the border of East Pakistan.

One year ago: Spain's new king, Juan Carlos I, celebrated his ascension to the throne with pomp and prayer.

Today's birthdays: Caroline Kennedy is 19. Broadway producer David Merrick is 64.

Thought for today: We may be willing to tell a story twice, but are never willing to hear it more than once. — William Hazlitt, English writer, 1778-1830.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, George Washington, who was at Newark, N.J., wrote to General Charles Lee in New York's Westchester County and urged him to march to join the retreating Washington forces. Washington wrote: "I confess I expected you would have been sooner in motion."

Two schools in Clearcreek District, Stoutsville and Oakland, were to be reopened after final count of the vote for the 3-mill tax levy showed that it passed by 13 votes. The schools had been closed since September for lack of funds after the issue had been defeated three times by the voters.

"So after years of not communicating, we finally started to communicate, and I discovered he was really a bore."

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

A great many people are highly sensitive to the stings of hornets, wasps, yellow jackets, and honey bees. Unfortunately, not all of them know whether they are or not until they are bitten and develop a severe reaction.

A group of scientists at the Johns Hopkins Hospital has developed a new and interesting skin test that may, in advance, identify people who are extremely allergic to insect stings.

A solution prepared from the venom of a group of wasps is injected under the skin. In severely sensitive people, a red welt appears at the site of injection.

Dr. Lawrence Lichtenstein and his co-workers believe this is an invaluable test for those people who think they are allergic and have not yet proved it.

These same researchers are actively working on a vaccine that will prevent the serious consequences of insect bites in highly allergic people.

thousand women were given the test. More than 95 per cent of these were found to be normal and could be reassured that no abnormality was present in the fetus (unborn child). The study states:

"Thirty-nine of the women learned from the tests that their child would be seriously deformed and elected to have abortions. There was no indication that the extraction and study of the fluid injured either the mother or the unborn child in this study."

Pregnant women past the age of 35 can be offered a test to determine if their unborn child will be normal.

The National Institute of Child and Human Development in Bethesda, Md., has just completed a five-year study on a procedure known as "amniocentesis."

By this method, a small amount of fluid is safely removed from the sac that surrounds the unborn child. Analysis of the fluid can predict potential abnormalities before birth.

In some instances, the analysis can detect the sex of the baby months before birth.

Prisoner Pact Brings Reaction

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Americans held in Mexican jails say they welcome a new treaty that will let them serve their terms in U.S. prisons, and they plan to challenge their convictions, and even the treaty, in court once they get home.

The pact, initiated here Thursday by U.S. Ambassador John J. Jova and Mexican Foreign Secretary Alfonso Garcia Robles, must be ratified by the senates of both countries. The first exchange is not expected before next April, sources said.

Jova said the main purpose of the agreement is the return of convicts to their native cultures, where they can be properly rehabilitated.

Nearly all of the American prisoners in Mexico claim their civil rights were violated. Among other things, they charge that Mexican police used torture to make them sign confessions in Spanish that they could not understand.

Inmates interviewed Thursday at Santa Marta prison here indicated they planned court action to overturn their convictions as soon as they got back to the United States. One said she would be met at the airport by a bail bondsman and two lawyers.

Robert Arthur Fisher, 42, of Omaha, Neb., who has served 26 months of a seven-year term for forgery and marijuana possession, said he could not understand how Americans could be forced to serve time in the U.S. for convictions based on confessions extracted by torture in Mexico.

Set Conference On Schools, Jobs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — About 125 job placement officers and business personnel managers from 10 states are expected to attend a two-day conference beginning Monday on strengthening relations between education and industry.

The conference, sponsored by the National Association for Industry-Education Cooperation in conjunction with the Ohio Department of Education, is the first of three such conferences to be held nationally.

RESOLUTION NO. 104-76
A RESOLUTION ESTABLISHING THE OLDE COURTHOUSE CIRCLE COMMISSION.

WHEREAS, a concern for the selected preservation and restoration of both historic and distinguished buildings and residences in the downtown and surrounding areas has been voiced by many citizens; and

WHEREAS, the Area Development Committee of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce undertook the initiation of such an effort; and thereafter secured the endorsement and approval of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce for the creation of the Olde Courthouse Circle Commission Subcommittee to achieve the aforesaid objectives; and

WHEREAS, the Commission so formed secured idea plans, working drawings for various alternatives, and an analysis of the financial feasibility and of the favorable economic impact of such improvement to the individuals involved; and

WHEREAS, AS A RESULT OF THE A.C.O.M.P.A. MEETING, PUBLICITY CONCERNING SUCH AN EFFORT AND FROM SEVERAL PUBLIC MEETINGS HELD ON THE 10th OF JANUARY, 1976, IT WAS DETERMINED THAT SUCH AN EFFORT WOULD BE WELL RECEIVED AND SUPPORTED, AND BE IN THE BEST INTEREST OF THE CITY OF CIRCLEVILLE; and

WHEREAS, IT IS NOW DEEMED DESIRABLE TO MAKE SUCH AN EFFORT BOTH PRACTICAL AND AFFORDABLE;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CIRCLEVILLE, STATE OF OHIO:

SECTION 1: That there is hereby created the Circleville "Olde Courthouse Circle Commission".

SECTION 2: That the aforesaid Commission shall serve in an advisory capacity to and for the Circleville Planning and Zoning Commission, the Circleville City Council, the Mayor of Circleville, and the residents of the Olde Courthouse Circle Commission district and shall consist of the following nine members:

(A) Two members of City Council, which shall be appointed by the President of the Council.

(B) The Mayor of Circleville or his designate.

(C) Three members selected by the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce.

(D) Three members at large, one of whom shall be selected by each of the above three categories, but all of whom are from the Olde Courthouse Circle Commission district as described in Section 4.

Each member of Categories (C) and (D) shall serve for a term of two years; the first day of such term commencing on January 1, 1977. The members shall elect a chairman and other officers as necessary and formulate and approve rules, regulations and regulations as are necessary to carry out the duties and responsibilities contained in this resolution.

SECTION 3: That the purpose of the Olde Courthouse Circle Commission is to give advice, suggestions and comments upon the construction, reconstruction, rebuilding, improving, and remodeling of the exteriors of all buildings and residences in the Olde Courthouse Circle Commission district as described in Section 4. The objective of the Olde Courthouse Circle Commission is to encourage on a voluntary basis the preservation and restoration, where economically and structurally feasible to do so, of buildings and residences which by their architecture, historical value, and distinguished or which may be of historic significance. The method of achieving such purposes and objectives is to make available to those property owners involved the necessary ideas, technical knowledge, and various other resources needed to accomplish the stated purpose and objectives of the Olde Courthouse Circle Commission.

SECTION 4: That the area to be designated as the "Olde Courthouse Circle Commission District" shall be the area contained by the Norfolk & Western Railroad tracks as the west boundary; Union Street including the rear property line of the structures on the south side of the street as the south boundary; Washington Street including the rear property line of the structures on the east side of the street as the east boundary; and Hargus Creek as the north boundary.

SECTION 5: That an applicant for a Building (Zoning) Permit under Chapters 108, 110, 112, 114, 116, 118, 120, 122, 124, 126, 128, 130, 132, 134, 136, 138, 140, 142, 144, 146, 148, 150, 152, 154, 156, 158, 160, 162, 164, 166, 168, 170, 172, 174, 176, 178, 180, 182, 184, 186, 188, 190, 192, 194, 196, 198, 200, 202, 204, 206, 208, 210, 212, 214, 216, 218, 220, 222, 224, 226, 228, 230, 232, 234, 236, 238, 240, 242, 244, 246, 248, 250, 252, 254, 256, 258, 260, 262, 264, 266, 268, 270, 272, 274, 276, 278, 280, 282, 284, 286, 288, 290, 292, 294, 296, 298, 300, 302, 304, 306, 308, 310, 312, 314, 316, 318, 320, 322, 324, 326, 328, 330, 332, 334, 336, 338, 340, 342, 344, 346, 348, 350, 352, 354, 356, 358, 360, 362, 364, 366, 368, 370, 372, 374, 376, 378, 380, 382, 384, 386, 388, 390, 392, 394, 396, 398, 400, 402, 404, 406, 408, 410, 412, 414, 416, 418, 420, 422, 424, 426, 428, 430, 432, 434, 436, 438, 440, 442, 444, 446, 448, 450, 452, 454, 456, 458, 460, 462, 464, 466, 468, 470, 472, 474, 476, 478, 480, 482, 484, 486, 488, 490, 492, 494, 496, 498, 500, 502, 504, 506, 508, 510, 512, 514, 516, 518, 520, 522, 524, 526, 528, 530, 532, 534, 536, 538, 540, 542, 544, 546, 548, 550, 552, 554, 556, 558, 560, 562, 564, 566, 568, 570, 572, 574, 576, 578, 580, 582, 584, 586, 588, 590, 592, 594, 596, 598, 600, 602, 604, 606, 608, 610, 612, 614, 616, 618, 620, 622, 624, 626, 628, 630, 632, 634, 636, 638, 640, 642, 644, 646, 648, 650, 652, 654, 656, 658, 660, 662, 664, 666, 668, 670, 672, 674, 676, 678, 680, 682, 684, 686, 688, 690, 692, 694, 696, 698, 700, 702, 704, 706, 708, 710, 712, 714, 716, 718, 720, 722, 724, 726, 728, 730, 732, 734, 736, 738, 740, 742, 744, 746, 748, 750, 752, 754, 756, 758, 760, 762, 764, 766, 768, 770, 772, 774, 776, 778, 780, 782, 784, 786, 788, 790, 792, 794, 796, 798, 800, 802, 804, 806, 808, 810, 812, 814, 816, 818, 820, 822, 824, 826, 828, 830, 832, 834, 836, 838, 840, 842, 844, 846, 848, 850, 852, 854, 856, 858, 860, 862, 864, 866, 868, 870, 872, 874, 876, 878, 880, 882, 884, 886, 888, 890, 892, 894, 896, 898, 900, 902, 904, 906, 908, 910, 912, 914, 916, 918, 920, 922, 924, 926, 928, 930, 932, 934, 936, 938, 940, 942, 944, 946, 948, 950, 952, 954, 956, 958, 960, 962, 964, 966, 968, 970, 972, 974, 976, 978, 980, 982, 984, 986, 988, 990, 992, 994, 996, 998, 1000.

SECTION 6: Upon obtaining a copy of the plans as prescribed in Section 5, the Olde Courthouse Circle Commission may contact the permit applicant to discuss how to best achieve the stated purposes and objectives of the said Commission.

SECTION 7: Nothing contained in this Resolution other than the requirements of Section 5 shall be construed as restricting, limiting or otherwise affecting the rights of any individual concerning his property.

SECTION 8: On or before the first day of February of every year the Olde Courthouse Circle Commission shall submit an annual report to the Circleville City Council and the Circleville Planning and Zoning Commission detailing the activities for the previous calendar year.

SECTION 9: That this Resolution shall go into force and be in effect from and at the earliest time allowed by law.

Our New Center is located at 8010 U.S. Route 22 East, at the site of the former Children's Home. It is about 3 miles from the center of Circleville. There are no steps. Our telephones are supposed to be moved on Wed., Dec. 1 and we will have the same numbers. The information & Referral office will also move out there as soon as there is a private telephone line available for us to use. We'll keep you informed when that happens.

Sometime after we get everything well in hand, we will have an Open House. In the meantime, our regular hours will be the same as they have been - weekdays from 8:30 to 4:30 p.m.

18 Juvenile Cases Heard This Week In County Court

Pickaway County Juvenile Court Judge Guy Cline heard eighteen cases this week, with the majority of them being traffic and 2 grand theft charges.

David L. McGuire, 16, Route 2, Ashville was charged with failure to signal. His license was suspended for one month, he was ordered to attend traffic school, and may drive to school and work.

Arthur R. Jackson, 17, Williamsport, was given a $5 fine for failure to yield right of way. His license was suspended for one month, he was ordered to attend traffic school, and may drive to work and school.

Terry Lee Howard, 15, of Columbus was charged with operating a motor vehicle under the influence and no operator's license. For the first charge, he was given $100 fine, $50 suspended, and his license will be suspended for six months after completing drivers training or after his 18th birthday. He was also given three days of detention. For no operator's license, $15 of his $25 fine was suspended and his license was suspended for six months to run consecutive with the other charge.

A 15-year-old boy, charged with grand theft was sentenced to the permanent care of the Ohio Youth Commission (OYC), suspended, 60 days detention, 44 days suspended, three years probation and 50 community work hours. He was ordered not to associate with one certain person.

A 14-year-old Columbus boy, charged with grand theft was given a suspended sentence to the permanent care of the OYC, 60 days suspended, 44 days detention, three years probation, 50 community work hours and ordered not to associate with one certain person.

A 17-year-old girl charged with school truancy was given 10 days detention, suspended, two years of probation, and ordered not to associate with one certain person.

A 16-year-old Harrisburg boy was given 10 days detention, 8 days suspended, an additional year of probation and 50 community work hours for parole violation.

Timothy T. Cunningham, 17, of Frankfort was charged with a stop sign violation. He was given a $5 fine and had his license suspended for two weeks.

James G. Hon, Route 1, charged with

Church Council Slates Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's Council of Churches will conduct its 58th annual assembly on Dec. 6 and 7 when over 200 delegates from 18 denominations meet in Columbus.

"Although the assembly does not carry a theme," said the Rev. Carlton Weber, executive director of the council, "we will not only conduct the council's basic business, but we will focus on the challenges facing our society, the role and responsibility of the church in that corporate setting, and the particular opportunities available for the church in its ecumenical expression."

Tigers Host Braves In County Clash

Logan Elm will be out to hang another scalp in the teepee tonight when the Braves leave the reservation and make the trek into Roundtown to take on the Tigers of Circleville at the Mill St. gym.

But, the Tigers are waiting and ready to burst out of the den in their season opener. Their only action came in the South Central Ohio League preview where they stopped a strong Wilmington five by two points.

The Braves also came away with a win in the Mid State League preview and last Tuesday handed the Teays Valley Vikings a 70-57 setback in the season opener for both squads.

It could be a very interesting match-up tonight with the Braves sending their quick offense against the stubborn defense of Circleville.

One thing is certain—Every inch of the Mill St. gym will be filled to the brim as both of these teams provide plenty of fireworks in what is always a clean, hard-fought county rivalry. And tonight's clash promises to be more of the same.

Coach Butch Kobel and his Braves are ready—Coach Jim Bailey and his Tigers are pawing the ground—And from all appearances, we'll have another barn burner on our hands.

The doors will open at 6 p.m. with the reserve game starting things off at 6:30 p.m. The Tiger reserves are still untested in season play while the Braves have a three-point win over Teays Valley to their credit.

"We have a lot of respect for Logan Elm and anticipate an extremely hard-fought but clean battle in the Circleville-Logan Elm tradition," coach Bailey commented. "Logan Elm has excellent quickness, experienced ball handlers and an outstanding inside ball player in Chuck Cave."

"We were pleased with our 15-man effort against an extremely strong Wilmington team in the SCOL preview," Bailey continued. "We made some mistakes but we played together and very hard. We are counting on all-out effort to be the trademark of this Tiger squad. We are looking forward to getting the season started."

Probable starters for the Braves will be: Mark Skinner, 5-foot-10; Jeff Collins, 5-foot-8; Randy Pontius, 5-foot-10; Terry Wright, 6-foot-1; Chuck Cave, 6-foot-4.

Taking the floor for the Tigers will be: Tom Taylor, 5-foot-10; Frank Merrill, 6-foot; Brent Wright, 6-foot-4½; Toren Bensonhaver, 6-foot; and either Mark Albright, 5-foot-11; Eric Pontius, 6-foot; or Rusty Holbrook, 6-foot.

Tampa Bay Faces Oakland Raiders

By BRUCE LOWITT

AP Sports Writer

John McKay wasn't exactly in his usual one-liner mood.

Tampa Bay's affable coach, who has shown an ability to laugh in the face of tragedy, wasn't laughing as his Buccaneers, the worst team in the National Football League, prepared to meet the best, namely the Oakland Raiders.

"Our next three games would be a hard test for anybody, not just us," he said, looking past Sunday's game against the Raiders to the Pittsburgh Steelers and New England Patriots—and possibly the first 0-14 record in NFL history.

"Oakland's passing game can give any team trouble because you have to double-team Cliff Branch, and that just opens up Dave Casper down the middle," he said of Oakland quarterback Ken Stabler's two prime targets.

What the Bucs-Raiders game comes down to is a test of the old "on any given Sunday" theory, and the possibility—however remote—that the 0-11 Raiders might actually beat the 10-1 Raiders, already the champions in the American Conference West.

In Sunday's other action it's Philadelphia at Washington, Pittsburgh at Cincinnati, Denver at New England, the New York Jets at Baltimore, New Orleans at Los Angeles, Seattle at the New York Giants, Miami at Cleveland, Chicago at Green Bay, Atlanta at Houston and Kansas City at San Diego. On Monday night it's Minnesota at San Francisco.

On Thursday, Dallas all but clinched the National Conference East title by beating St. Louis 19-14 to take a two-game lead over the Cardinals in the division with two games to go, and Detroit downed Buffalo 27-14 despite O.J. Simpson's record of 273 yards that made him the first NFL rusher to gain 200 yards or more in five games.

If this were two years ago, when playoff sites were predetermined regardless of the playoff teams' records, McKay might be able to look forward to an Oakland team resting many of its regulars. But now the sites are based on the playoff teams' records—so Coach John Madden's Raiders still need every victory they can get. They're 10-1 while Baltimore and Cincinnati, the AFC's other division leaders, are each 9-2.

Bengals Get Ready For Pittsburgh War

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers' offensive plan the last time they faced the Cincinnati Bengals was simple: a little bit of rookie quarterback Mike Kruczek and a lot of Franco Harris.

It worked once, but the Bengals are setting stern jaws that it won't work twice.

"We want them to throw, so we've got to stop Franco," said veteran cornerback Tommy Casanova.

Pittsburgh, with Terry Bradshaw still recovering from a back injury, is expected to start Kruczek in Sunday's division showdown with the Bengals. Cincinnati, 9-2, can win the AFC Central title and ruin Pittsburgh's playoff plans. The Steelers are 7-4.

Six weeks ago, with Kruczek making his first pro start, the Steelers roughed up the Bengals 23-6 in a game that ignited the Pittsburgh revival. Kruczek passed only 12 times, completing five, while Harris turned into a one-man offensive show. He carried a career-high 41 times for 143 yards and two touchdowns to choke off Cincinnati's early momentum.

Sticking with success, the Steelers have relied on a ground-hugging offense to reel off six victories. Kruczek has started in four of them.

"Kruczek is a smart kid who hangs in the pocket well. He looks like a good passer, but it's hard to say how good he is because they haven't had to pass," said Casanova, a key man in Cincinnati's top ranked secondary.

Stopping Harris is easier said than done, and the Bengals are painfully aware of it.

Harris has been the central figure in Pittsburgh's two-year domination of Cincinnati. The Bengals have lost four straight times to the Steelers since a 17-10 victory in 1974.

Averaging 20 carries per game, the 245-pound fullback has rumbled for 882 yards this season. When he is not running, he is blocking for Rocky Bleier, who has 714 yards.

"That was one thing Franco said he wanted to accomplish this year," said Bleier. "He wanted to become a better blocker."

Harris needs only 118 yards to become only the fourth player in NFL history to gain 1,000 yards or more in four straight seasons.

"The thing about Franco is not just his size, but his ability to cut back so well. Just when you think you have stopped him at the point of attack, he cuts and dips," said Casanova, who is second on the club in interceptions with five.

Meanwhile, the Bengals hope to fight fire with some ground fire of their own. Rookie Archie Griffin, who was held to 15 yards in four carries in the Pittsburgh loss, broke loose for 139 against Kansas City last Sunday.

It was a sign the Bengals have been waiting for.

"We're a good football team," said quarterback Ken Anderson. "We'll find out how good we are in the next three games."

PGA Tour Stop Set At Kings Island

MASON, Ohio (AP) — The 1977 tour by the Professional Golfers Association will again include a stop here Sept. 22-25 where a $150,000 purse will be sought.

This will be the fourth Ohio Kings Island Open, with a $7,500 award to touring professionals during the Pro-Am to be held Sept. 21.

The tournament started in 1973 as a $25,000 event. It will be played one week later because of the Ryder Cup matches in Great Britain the previous week.

The event is sponsored by Taft Broadcasting Co. and the Cincinnati Enquirer.

Moeller State Grid Champs

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — "This is the best team we've ever had," said Gerry Faust.

Neal Billman, his Gahanna team just mauled by Faust's Class AAA champion Cincinnati Moeller 43-5 Friday night, went his coaching rival one better.

"I've been coaching 14 seasons," Billman told sports writers, "and this is the very best high school football team I've seen play the game."

Moeller, becoming the first team ever to win back-to-back Ohio prep playoff championships, had Gahanna in a 27-3 hole at halftime. The third-ranked Lions never recovered, their 14-game winning streak shattered.

"We knew Moeller was a machine," said Billman, an assistant when Upper Arlington won two mythical state titles. "It's an awesome thing to stop. We tried everything imaginable. Our game plan was destroyed by their people up front."

Faust has lost only 16 games in 17 seasons with the Cincinnati Catholic school. Moeller has played in four playoffs and won the last two. The Crusaders were also The Associated Press' regular season state champions.

Faust considers this team better than his 1975 titleholders. "We have more ability with the same type of heart and character," he explained.

Tim Koegel, Moeller's 6-foot-5 senior quarterback, shredded Gahanna's defense for three first-half touchdowns, but preferred to dole the credit out to his blockers.

"I've been sacked only three times all year," said Koegel.

When asked to single out particular offensive linemen, the man who threw 19 touchdown passes in 12 games this fall, responded: "Put everybody's name down. They are all super."

Koegel passed 54 yards to Bob Massong and 19 and 4 yards to Dave Condeni to spark Moeller to a 12-0-0 season. Gahanna finished 10-1-0 in its first playoff bid.

Tailback Steve Givens darted 19 yards twice for two more Crusader touchdowns as Moeller scored more points than Gahanna had given up in 10 previous starts. The Lions had yielded only four touchdowns and 29 points previously.

Gahanna's only points came on a 31-yard field goal by Kent Parrill in the second quarter and a safety in the third period.

It was the Class AA and Class A schools' turn to decide titles today in Akron's Rubber Bowl. In the A showdown at 4:30 p.m., fifth-ranked West Jefferson, 9-1-0, went against No. 10 Ashtabula St. John's, 6-3-1, and third-ranked Brookville, 11-0-0, faced No. 9 Elyria Catholic, 9-1-0, for the AA laurels at 7:30 p.m.

"I was pleased with our performance overall. I don't think that we played bad basketball except for our turnovers." Those were the words of Teays Valley basketball coach Bob Hoover in the wake of his team's 61-44 defeat at the hands of a big, strong Franklin Heights cage squad that took on the Vikings Friday night at Ashville.

The Vikes put on a great display of never-say-die play, as they kept coming back at the Falcons until the final buzzer. The visitors opened up a small lead in the early going, but they were certainly hard to stop when their guns found the range. The Vikings were hampered at first when they had trouble working inside against Franklin Heights' tall timber.

The Norsemen committed 21 misplays, but managed to shake the ball away from their opponents 16 times. They also grabbed the ball off the boards 30 times, while the Falcons could manage only 28.

From the floor, Teays Valley had a rather cold 29 per cent shooting average, but they eased that figure with a 63 per cent rate at the charity stripe. The visitors fired home 44 per cent of their shots in the field, and managed 58 per cent at the foul line.

Hot hands for Franklin Heights in the contest were Jerry Ferst, who warmed the nets for 20 points, and Mike Saxton, who stuffed 18 markers through the hoop. Dave Lazenburg lit up the scoreboard for 10 points to complete the double-figure scoring for the winners.

For the Vikes, Terry Trego led the way with 13 tallies, and he was closely followed by Mike Fisher who rammed 11 points home for the hosts. Tim Tosca chipped in with 8 markers, Duane Keller had six, and John Woodruff, Mike Johnson, and Jeff Voss added two apiece to round out the Teays Valley scoring.

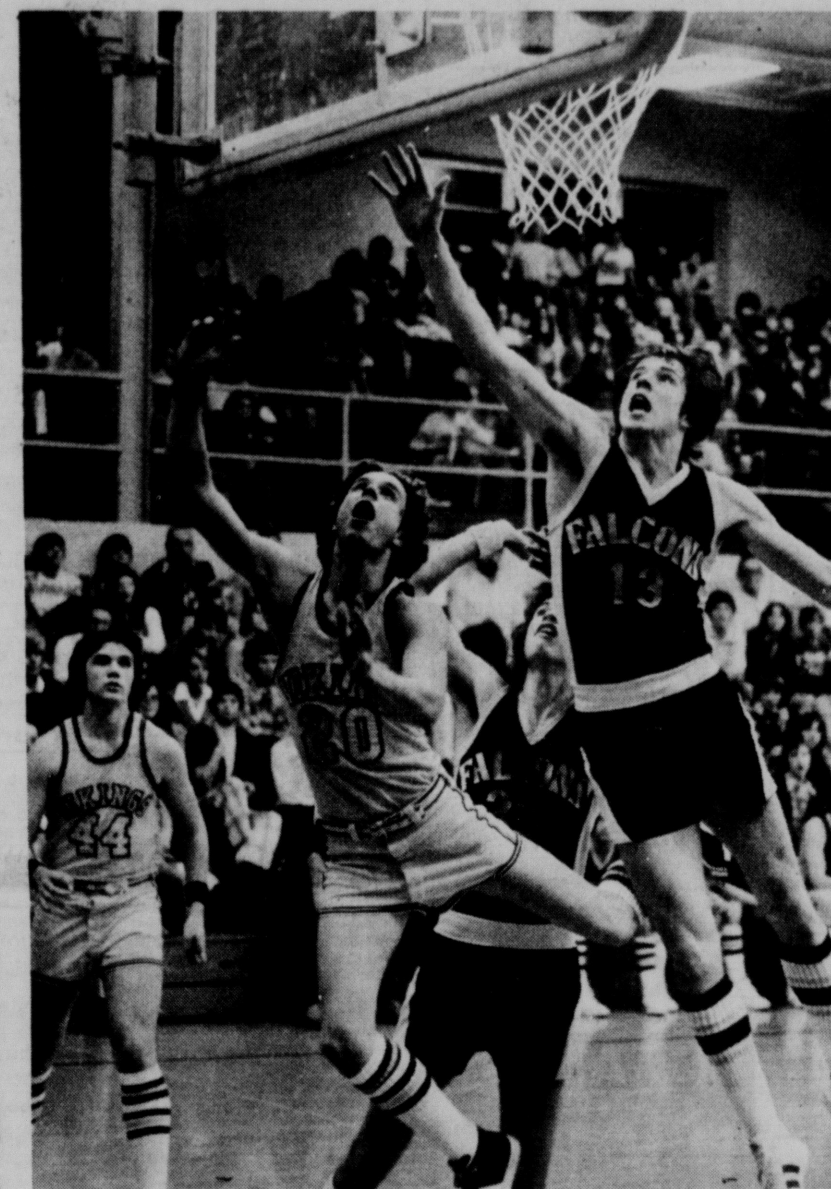

Teays Valley now drops to an 0-2 record for the young 1976-77 season, with an 0-1 slate in the Metro league. Their next contest will find them on their first road trip of the year, as they travel to Hamilton Twp. a week from tonight.

Hold it a minute. Is that North Carolina in a Four Corner offense? Yes, it is—to Norm Sloan's consternation.

"I'm surprised that the No. 3 team in the nation—with all the talent they have—had to hold the ball," Sloan said sourly.

Exercising their familiar game plan Friday night, the Tar Heels put Sloan's North Carolina State team under their spell by a 78-66 score in the opening round of the Big Four Tournament.

North Carolina defeated the 15th-ranked Wolfpack after Wake Forest inaugurated the traditional intrastate tourney in the Greensboro Coliseum with a tingling 81-80 victory over Duke.

While North Carolina faces Wake Forest in the Big Four finals tonight, several other tournament championships will be settled around the country.

Southern Illinois defeated No. 20 Missouri 68-55 Friday night and advanced to the finals of the St. Louis Arch Classic against Illinois, which defeated St. Louis University 68-65. St. John's, a 79-65 winner over Brown, defends its Lapchick Tournament title in New York against Fairfield, which defeated Northwestern 92-74.

VMI and Virginia meet for the title of the Virginia Tip-Off Tournament in Charlottesville. VMI earned a berth in the finals by defeating Madison 85-77 and Virginia walloped Roanoke 88-48.

Florida State defeated Toledo 70-66 and Clemson crushed Yale 104-50 to advance to the championship game of the IPTAY Tournament in Clemson, S.C. The Spider Basketball Classic features a championship game between Richmond and George Washington. Richmond advanced to tonight's finals with a 56-49 decision over Navy and George Washington romped over Dartmouth 96-57.

Syracuse routed Harvard 75-48 and West Virginia hammered Massachusetts 89-77 to advance to the finals of the Hall of Fame Tournament in Springfield, Mass.

In other games involving ranked teams Friday night, No. 4 UCLA defeated San Diego State 74-64; No. 7 Nevada-Las Vegas blasted Nevada-Reno 102-87; 10th-ranked Arizona stopped Arizona State 92-91 in overtime and No. 13 Alabama outscored Purdue 97-80.

Mike Glenn tossed in 17 points and led Southern Illinois' tightly-controlled offense to a surprisingly easy victory over Missouri in the St. Louis Arch Classic.

Audie Matthews propelled Illinois to an early lead and the Fighting Illini held on to beat host team St. Louis in the second game.

Marques Johnson scored the last eight UCLA points as the Bruins fought off a late charge by San Diego State. Eddie Owens scored 20 points to pace Nevada-Las Vegas over Nevada-Reno. San Francisco trimmed San Francisco State behind Bill Cartwright's 24 points. Tim Marshall scored on a driving shot with two seconds left in overtime to lead Arizona past Arizona State. Reginald King scored 22 points, leading Alabama over Purdue.

Agase Out At Purdue

WEST LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Purdue's Alex Agase, called "a victim of the times" by Athletic Director George King, is on the list of unemployed football coaches today.

Agase, 54, was fired on Friday, less than a week after he finished his fourth losing season at Purdue with a 20-14 loss to Indiana. His four teams compiled an 18-25-1 mark overall.

"I have no bitterness," said Agase, whose greatest moment in 14 years of college coaching was an upset of then-No. 1 Michigan three weeks ago.

"I had a great love for Purdue when I came here, and I leave with a great love for Purdue. I asked for four years and got it. Everybody tried to help, but we just didn't win enough."

King said he was "personally saddened" by Agase's dismissal.

"Alex happens to be a victim of the times as they relate to major college athletics today," King said. "Football serves as a financial base for the entire athletic program, and therefore the loss of revenue from booster club support and gate receipts has to be a major concern for any administrator."

Hawks Stop Nets, 109-105

It took a hastily called team meeting to get the point across, but yes, the Atlanta Hawks can indeed win on the road.

The Hawks snapped a 28-game road losing streak by beating the New York Nets 109-105 at the Nassau Coliseum as John Drew scored 33 points, including 29 in the second half and 17 in the fourth quarter.

Atlanta had not won away from home since Jan. 27, 1976, when they eked out a 114-113 decision over the New York Knicks.

Elsewhere in the National Basketball Association, the Cleveland Cavaliers beat the Boston Celtics 108-92, San Antonio edged Golden State 123-121, Buffalo beat Detroit 124-119, Philadelphia defeated the New York Knicks 114-103, Indiana topped Milwaukee 109-98, Kansas City defeated Denver 120-110, Seattle beat Chicago 101-97 and Los Angeles edged Portland 99-96.

Flames Burn Blues, 5-2

Fred Creighton isn't giving out inoculations to stop his veterans from catching whatever is being spread by some of his Atlanta Flames.

"I think the rookies are adding a touch we haven't had," said the Atlanta coach Friday night after his team overpowered the St. Louis Blues 5-2 in National Hockey League.

Atlanta has lost only once in its last nine games. Last night's win was the fifth in that streak and allowed the Flames to hold second place in the Patrick Division—only four points behind the first-place New York Islanders.

In other NHL games, Pittsburgh defeated the Cleveland Barons 3-1 and Philadelphia remained one point behind Atlanta with a 4-2 triumph over Colorado.

Houston and Winnipeg remained tied for first place in the World Hockey Association's West Division by skating to a 1-1 deadlock. In other WHA action, the Minnesota Fighting Saints topped Quebec and Phoenix handled Edmonton by identical 4-2 scores.

The Sugar Bowl basketball tournament Dec. 28-29 has Indiana, Cincinnati, Georgia and South Carolina competing. It will be played in New Orleans, La.

Tigers Host Braves In County Clash

Logan Elm will be out to hang another scalp in the teepee tonight when the Braves leave the reservation and make the trek into Roundtown to take on the Tigers of Circleville at the Mill St. gym.

But, the Tigers are waiting and ready to burst out of the den in their season opener. Their only action came in the South Central Ohio League preview where they stopped a strong Wilmington five by two points.

The Braves also came away with a win in the Mid State League preview and last Tuesday handed the Teays Valley Vikings a 70-57 setback in the season opener for both squads.

It could be a very interesting matchup tonight with the Braves sending their quick offense against the stubborn defense of Circleville.

One thing is certain—Every inch of the Mill St. gym will be filled to the brim as both of these teams provide plenty of fireworks in what is always a clean, hard-fought county rivalry. And tonight's clash promises to be more of the same.

Coach Butch Kobel and his Braves are ready—Coach Jim Bailey and his Tigers are pawing the ground—And from all appearances, we'll have another barn burner on our hands.

The doors will open at 6 p.m. with the reserve game starting things off at 6:30 p.m. The Tiger reserves are still untested in season play while the Braves have a three-point win over Teays Valley to their credit.

"We have a lot of respect for Logan Elm and anticipate an extremely hard-fought but clean battle in the Circleville-Logan Elm tradition," coach Bailey commented. "Logan Elm has excellent quickness, experienced ball handlers and an outstanding inside ball player in Chuck Cave."

"We were pleased with our 15-man effort against an extremely strong Wilmington team in the SCOL preview," Bailey continued. "We made some mistakes but we played together and very hard. We are counting on all-out effort to be the trademark of this Tiger squad. We are looking forward to getting the season started."

Probable starters for the Braves will be: Mark Skinner, 5-foot-10; Jeff Collins, 5-foot-8; Randy Pontius, 5-foot-10; Terry Wright, 6-foot-1; Chuck Cave, 6-foot-4.

Taking the floor for the Tigers will be: Tom Taylor, 5-foot-10; Frank Merrill, 6-foot; Brent Wright, 6-foot-4; Toren Bensonhaver, 6-foot; and either Mark Albright, 5-foot-11; Eric Pontius, 6-foot; or Rusty Holbrook, 6-foot.

Tampa Bay Faces Oakland Raiders

By BRUCE LOWITT

John McKay wasn't exactly in his usual one-liner mood.

Tampa Bay's affable coach, who has shown an ability to laugh in the face of tragedy, wasn't laughing as his Buccaneers, the worst team in the National Football League, prepared to meet the best, namely the Oakland Raiders.

"Our next three games would be a hard test for anybody, not just us," he said, looking past Sunday's game against the Raiders to the Pittsburgh Steelers and New England Patriots—and possibly the first 0-14 record in NFL history.

"Oakland's passing game can give any team trouble because you have to double-team Cliff Branch, and that just opens up Dave Casper down the middle," he said of Oakland quarterback Ken Stabler's two prime targets.

North Carolina defeated the 15th-ranked Wolfpack after Wake Forest inaugurated the traditional intrastate tourney in the Greensboro Coliseum with a tingling 81-80 victory over Duke.

While North Carolina faces Wake Forest in the Big Four finals tonight, several other tournament championships will be settled around the country.

Southern Illinois defeated No. 20 Missouri 68-55 Friday night and advanced to the finals of the St. Louis Arch Classic against Illinois, which defeated St. Louis University 68-65. St. John's, a 79-65 winner over Brown, defends its Lapchick Tournament title in New York against Fairfield, which defeated Northwestern 92-74.

VMI and Virginia meet for the title of the Virginia Tip-Off Tournament in Charlottesville. VMI earned a berth in the finals by defeating Madison 85-77 and Virginia walloped Roanoke 88-48.

Florida State defeated Toledo 70-66 and Clemson crushed Yale 104-50 to advance to the championship game of the IPTAY Tournament in Clemson, S.C. The Spider Basketball Classic features a championship game between Richmond and George Washington. Richmond advanced to tonight's finals with a 56-49 decision over Navy and George Washington romped over Dartmouth 96-57.

Syracuse routed Harvard 75-48 and West Virginia hammered Massachusetts 89-77 to advance to the finals of the Hall of Fame Tournament in Springfield, Mass.

In other games involving ranked teams Friday night, No. 4 UCLA defeated San Diego State 74-64; No. 7 Nevada-Las Vegas blasted Nevada-Reno 102-87; 10th-ranked Arizona stopped Arizona State 92-91 in overtime and No. 13 Alabama outscored Purdue 97-80.

Mike Glenn tossed in 17 points and led Southern Illinois' tightly-controlled offense to a surprisingly easy victory over Missouri in the St. Louis Arch Classic.

Audie Matthews propelled Illinois to an early lead and the Fighting Illini held on to beat host team St. Louis in the second game.

Marques Johnson scored the last eight UCLA points as the Bruins fought off a late charge by San Diego State. Eddie Owens scored 20 points to pace Nevada-Las Vegas over Nevada-Reno. San Francisco trimmed San Francisco State behind Bill Cartwright's 24 points. Tim Marshall scored on a driving shot with two seconds left in overtime to lead Arizona past Arizona State. Reginald King scored 22 points, leading Alabama over Purdue.

Agase Out At Purdue

WEST LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Purdue's Alex Agase, called "a victim of the times" by Athletic Director George King, is on the list of unemployed football coaches today.

Agase, 54, was fired on Friday, less than a week after he finished his fourth losing season at Purdue with a 20-14 loss to Indiana. His four teams compiled an 18-25-1 mark overall.

"I have no bitterness," said Agase, whose greatest moment in 14 years of college coaching was an upset of then-No. 1 Michigan three weeks ago.

"I had a great love for Purdue when I came here, and I leave with a great love for Purdue. I asked for four years and got it. Everybody tried to help, but we just didn't win enough."

King said he was "personally saddened" by Agase's dismissal. "Alex happens to be a victim of the times as they relate to major college athletics today," King said. "Football serves as a financial base for the entire athletic program, and therefore the loss of revenue from booster club support and gate receipts has to be a major concern for any administrator."

Hawks Stop Nets, 109-105

By ALEX SACHARE

AP Sports Writer

It took a hastily called team meeting to get the point across, but yes, the Atlanta Hawks can indeed win on the road.

The Hawks snapped a 28-game losing streak by beating the New York Nets 109-105 at the Nassau Coliseum as John Drew scored 33 points, including 29 in the second half and 17 in the fourth quarter.

Atlanta had not won away from home since Jan. 27, 1976, when they eked out a 114-113 decision over the New York Knicks.

Elsewhere in the National Basketball Association, the Cleveland Cavaliers beat the Boston Celtics 108-92, San Antonio edged Golden State 123-121, Buffalo beat Detroit 124-119, Philadelphia defeated the New York Knicks 114-103, Indiana topped Milwaukee 109-98, Kansas City defeated Denver 120-110, Seattle beat Chicago 101-97 and Los Angeles edged Portland 99-96.

Flames Burn Blues, 5-2

By HANK LOWENKRON

AP Sports Writer

Fred Creighton isn't giving out inoculations to stop his veterans from catching whatever is being spread by some of his Atlanta Flames.

"I think the rookies are adding a touch we haven't had," said the Atlanta coach Friday night after his team overpowered the St. Louis Blues 5-2 in National Hockey League.

Atlanta has lost only once in its last nine games. Last night's win was the fifth in that streak and allowed the Flames to hold second place in the Patrick Division—only four points behind the first-place New York Islanders.

In other NHL games, Pittsburgh defeated the Cleveland Barons 3-1 and Philadelphia remained one point behind Atlanta with a 4-2 triumph over Colorado.

Houston and Winnipeg remained tied for first place in the World Hockey Association's West Division by skating to a 1-1 deadlock. In other WHA action, the Minnesota Fighting Saints topped Quebec and Phoenix handled Edmonton by identical 4-2 scores.

The Sugar Bowl basketball tournament Dec. 28-29 has Indiana, Cincinnati, Georgia and South Carolina competing. It will be played in New Orleans, La.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SUNDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Emotionalism or temperamentality could get you into trouble if not careful. Self-control needed — especially in romantic situations.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Present conditions may not warrant certain expansion you've in mind. Go slow if conservative opposition arises.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): You may run into some unusual situations now. Be your innately judicious self and you should be able to cope well. Many fine influences!

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Don't lose patience with slower, more aggravating persons: It will only upset you, may result in fruitless disputes. Also, avoid pessimists and trouble-makers.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): You are mostly on your own to manipulate this day as you will. Start optimistically and maintain a pace which permits occasional reviewing to avoid pitfalls.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Good planetary influences encourage vigorous action and plans made for the good of all concerned. You may get an opportunity to capitalize on a hobby.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): A good day for planning next week's activities. But make some time for relaxation. Personal relationships, social interests and travel especially favored.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): This could be a mild period unless you put your usual fire and buoyancy into it. Communicate with those who share your interests. A pooling of ideas could prove highly profitable.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): You will probably be more interested in future potentials than in weekend merry-making. This is all to the good, since some fine opportunities are in the offing.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Wait before you offer an opinion; think twice before acting on decisions made in haste. Aim higher than you expect to reach and results will surprise you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Your instinct to help others may be needed suddenly, and in a most unexpected area. It isn't likely that you'll be found wanting.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): A promising outlook, but reject dubious ideas and suggestions. Determine the worth of all propositions before commitment. And DO avoid a tendency toward procrastination.

YOU BORN TODAY have been blessed with a high order of intellect, sparkling imagination and a delightful sense of humor. You are progressive in your method and keenly analytic in your thinking; would make an outstanding lawyer, jurist or statesman; could also shine in science or in educational work. As well endowed with business acumen as other Sagittarians and equally likely to succeed in such a field, you, nevertheless, would probably not find such a career as congenial as a profession or as an exponent of one of the arts. You have a great sense of beauty — with a special affinity for music, painting, literature and the drama. Birthdate of: William Blake, poet, painter, mystic; Artur Rubinstein, pianist-composer; Brooks Atkinson, drama critic.

A hibernating woodchuck breathes only once in every five minutes.

More than 200 years ago it was stylish for men to wear wide lace collars, lace cuffs, and even lace rosettes on their shoes.

84 Lumber Is Nation's Fastest Growing Chain

84 Lumber Company, with home offices in Eighty Four, Pennsylvania, just south of Pittsburgh, announced today that sales for fiscal 1976 will be a record-breaking $225 million — an increase of 22 per cent over 1975.

84 opened 34 new stores in 1976 including five in California. "It took us 18 years to open our first 100 stores," Joe Hardy Jr., president of 84 Lumber said, "but it will take us just over two years to open our next 100. We will open store 200 sometime next year."

"We are today the fastest growing retail lumber chain in America — and we intend to step-up our expansion rate to a new store every 10 days in 1977."

"Constant expansion means greater opportunity for our associates — and opportunity is what attracts the type of people we are seeking. Next year our growth means we'll need 40 new managers and 80 new co-managers plus at least two new area managers and increased back-up personnel in the office. All of these promotions will come from within our organization, but we'll need new people to fill these vacancies."

The 84 concept is a no-frills approach

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Occasional showers and mild temperatures were the rule for Ohio during the night. Temperatures were in the low to mid 50s overnight with the lowest of 49 at Youngstown.

Showers were scattered over Ohio and only light amounts of around one-tenth of an inch was reported. A low pressure storm area has moved northeast from the Southern Plains and is located in Lower Michigan this morning.

Very cold air to the west of the storm is causing snow from the western Great Lakes to Oklahoma. The cold air will spread into western Ohio this morning and into the eastern sections this afternoon. Temperatures are expected to fall into the 30s in the northwest by evening and in to the 40s in the east.

Windy and colder weather with occasional light snow is likely over the state tonight and Sunday.

Five People Injured In Accidents

Three Williamsport-area girls escaped serious injury when their car was demolished after it drove head-on into a concrete abutment on Mill Road early Saturday morning.

Barbara J. Mace, 17, and Nancy S. Mace, 20, both of 28085 Chillicothe Pike, Williamsport, were treated at Berger Hospital's emergency room for multiple contusions, abrasions, and lacerations.

They were later released.

A third passenger, Sally A. Mace, 22, was not hurt, according to Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Jim Fite.

They were treated at the scene of the 3:15 a.m. Saturday accident by the Circleville Emergency Medical Team.

According to Deputy Fite, Barbara Mace was driving west on Mill Road when her car went left of center and off the south side, striking the concrete abutment and spinning around.

Ms. Mace and her passengers told the deputy that she swerved her vehicle to avoid striking a man, who they spotted crossing the road.

The man, however, could not be located by the CEMT and Deputy Fite, who later charged her with reckless operation.

The 1974 Oldsmobile Cutlass, owned by Harold L. Mace, was destroyed.

Three people were injured in a two-car accident 6:24 p.m. Friday at the intersection of Route 23 and Route 316 in South Bloomfield.

Jane S. Wilson, 30, Columbus, and a passenger in her car, seven-year-old Holly Wilson, were treated at Berger Hospital's emergency room for lacerations to their mouths and facial abrasions.

Driver of the other car, Joni M. Little, 19, Lancaster, was treated for abrasions and contusions to her face and head.

They were released following treatment.

A third passenger in the Wilson auto, four-year-old Becky Wilson, was not hurt.

The Wilson car was driving north on Route 23, according to Deputy Sheriff Jim Deal, while Ms. Little's auto was traveling south in the left turn lane.

Ms. Wilson told Deputy Deal that she attempted to drive through the intersection because she felt it would have been more dangerous to try and stop her vehicle on the slippery streets for the yellow caution light.

Ms. Little, driving under the yellow caution light, was attempting to make a left turn onto Route 316 when her car was hit in the right front by the Wilson auto.

Impact knocked the Little car 263 feet north on Route 23.

Ms. Wilson was charged with failing to stop at a red light.

84 Lumber Is Nation's Fastest Growing Chain

84 Lumber Company, with home offices in Eighty Four, Pennsylvania, just south of Pittsburgh, announced today that sales for fiscal 1976 will be a record-breaking $225 million — an increase of 22 per cent over 1975.

84 opened 34 new stores in 1976 including five in California. "It took us 18 years to open our first 100 stores," Joe Hardy Jr., president of 84 Lumber said, "but it will take us just over two years to open our next 100. We will open store 200 sometime next year."

"We are today the fastest growing retail lumber chain in America — and we intend to step-up our expansion rate to a new store every 10 days in 1977."

"Constant expansion means greater opportunity for our associates — and opportunity is what attracts the type of people we are seeking. Next year our growth means we'll need 40 new managers and 80 new co-managers plus at least two new area managers and increased back-up personnel in the office. All of these promotions will come from within our organization, but we'll need new people to fill these vacancies."

The 84 concept is a no-frills approach to mass merchandising. Stores are built as basic warehouse-showrooms with no fancy carpeting or air-conditioning, and are operated on a no credit basis. This, along with volume purchasing direct from mills and manufacturers has enabled 84 to keep prices low for both the do-it-yourselfer and the builder. 84's price is the same for each, whether the purchase is one 2 by 4 or a truckload, thus, the remodeler or small builder can buy at the same cost advantage as the larger volume builder.

84 will have four regional offices in operation next year in Jacksonville, Denver, San Francisco and Chicago. Presently, 84 has stores in 29 states coast-to-coast.
